CONFIDENTIAL

Dear [REDACTED]:

This letter confirms receipt of your letter, dated February 6, 2006, detailing your complaint.

As I have told you in previous letters, the Commission on Judicial Discipline reviews complaints about ethical conduct by state judges. However, because it is not a court, it does not have any authority to review legal or factual aspects of a person's case. It also does not have the authority to review the rulings, orders or decisions that a judge may make when presiding over a person's case. All of those matters can be reviewed only through the appellate process.

I would recommend that you obtain an attorney's advice on how you might proceed at this point in time. I am sorry, but after reviewing your letter that you have presented and arguments that you have made, the issues that you have raised do not fall within the original jurisdiction or authority of this Commission. Your course of action at this point in time would be to work with an attorney to determine if you have any appellate avenues available to you concerning the issues that you have raised in your letter of complaint. I would invite you to share this letter with your attorney and, if she or he has questions, I would invite her or him to call me in Denver at (303) 894-2110. Complaints about attorneys are addressed by the Colorado Attorney Regulation Counsel office, 1560 Broadway, Suite 1800, Denver, Colorado 80202 (phone: (303) 866-6400).

Please be reminded that this matter is strictly confidential pursuant to Article VI, Section 23(3)(g), Colorado Constitution, and sections 24-72-401 and 402, Colorado Revised Statutes. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Richard A. Wehmhoefer
Executive Director and General Counsel
